In the school stage can be said to be nothing, as the saying goes: a momentary stumble eternal hate, early know so, I will study harder

However, I have to say that I really regretted my major for a long time because I made a mistake, but also because of this, I fell in love with the code that traversed between the computer and gained and lost, without too much care

- It's basically a hardware programming organization, each with its own talents. Then, through the understanding of neural network, I will modify the intelligent car. My ambition is not 5G, but further
- Through this activity, I made a lot of friends, and found that masters are everywhere, there is no strongest, only stronger, if you feel you are very successful, always remember that there are stronger people around you, only learning, to achieve balance, as the saying goes, never too old to learn, never too old to learn.
